Prospectus

St. Vincent's College was founded in 1865, by the Priests of the Congregation of the Mission. The early days of the foundation were passed within the walls of one of the old adobe buildings, so characteristic of this section of the world, in those early days. In 1867, the late O. W. Childs generously donated property on Sixth and Hill streets, upon which a commodious building was erected. Into this the faculty and students moved and here the College remained for twenty years. On August 5, 1869, Very Rev. James McGill, C. M., then president, the institution received from the California State Board of Education its charter, empowering it to confer degrees.

The rapid growth of the city in the early eighties, and the consequent increase in the number of students, made it necessary to find a new location. The old property, opposite Central Park, was sold and a new site was purchased on Grand Avenue and Washington streets. The new building, an ornament to the part of the city in which it is located, was finished and occupied in February, 1887, under the presidency of the late Very Rev. A. J. Meyer, C. M.

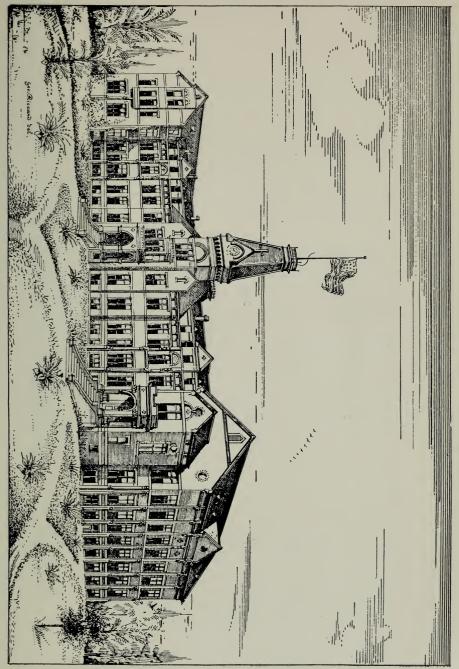

So great has been the increase in the attendance during the past few years, that a further extension of accommodations was deemed necessary. Accordingly, plans were drawn for an addition to the main building and the erection of a wing at its northern extremity. On March 3, of the present year, the faculty and students formally broke ground and a few days later the work of excavation was commenced.

The new addition is expected to be completed by the first of September and ready for the opening on September 14. Among the features of the addition are a magnificent study-hall for the Collegiate and Academic departments; a new refectory; a large dormitory 130x45 feet, with well-equipped lavatories for the seniors; a magnificent entertainment hall, to be handsomely furnished and provided with all the requisites of a first-class theatre. When completed and furnished as intended, St. Vincent's will rank among the best-equipped educational institutions in the country.

The outer campus, too, is to be made into a first-class athletic field for the senior students. It is to be fenced in, graded, and furnished with a one-fifth mile running track, thus giving the boys a play ground (350x320 feet) as fine as could be desired. In connection with the athletic field, plans are laid for a new gymnasium, equipped with shower-baths, dressing rooms, lockers and recreation rooms. The old gymnasium is to be refitted with shower-baths and lockers for the smaller boys.

Attention is called to the fact that henceforward the smaller boys shall be kept strictly apart from the larger ones, an arrangement that cannot fail to produce good results.

During the past year a large amount of apparatus, for the study of physics, was added to the laboratory. New and more convenient quarters are to be provided for it, as well as for the chemical apparatus. Libraries and club rooms are also provided for the use of the students.

Courses of Instruction

FOR the full development of the mind, and as a preparation for the battle of life, a young man should have a liberal education. From long experience it is the conviction of cultured and educated men that a thorough training in languages, mathematics and the sciences is the best means of securing such an education.

Collegiate There are two courses in the college open to Department those who seek degrees. The Classical embraces four years, and leads to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. In this course special attention is devoted to Latin and Greek—the study of which is obligatory. English, Mathematics and the Sciences receive due attention.

In the scientific course, instead of Latin and Greek, the modern languages—French, German and Spanish—are substituted. Moreover, extra time is devoted to the study of Sciences. English and Mathematics are the same as in the Classical course. Upon the satisfactory completion of the course of four years, the degree of Bachelor of Science is conferred.

Academic Leading up to the Freshman classes of the Department Classical and the Scientific courses in the College is an Academic course, in which preparation is made for the college studies.

This course extends through four years, and embraces the usual studies of a High School. Those students who intend entering the Classical course in the college, take up the Latin and Greek languages; and those preparing for the Scientific course substitute French or German for Latin and Greek, and give extra attention to the Sciences. The English studies and Mathematics are the same for all. On the satisfactory completion of the Academic course, a High School certificate is granted.

Commercial For those who may desire a business educa-Department tion, there is a Commercial course, of three years, in which special attention is given to Bookkeeping, Commercial Law, the practice of active business transactions, business correspondence, etc. Upon the satisfactory completion of this course, the Institution confers a Commercial Diploma.

Preparatory As it is a distinct advantage to have a proper Department foundation for higher studies, and as this foundation can be best secured where the future higher studies are provided for, a grammar school is conducted in connection with the Academic department. There are four divisions in this preparatory department, corresponding with the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades of the public schools. No boy is received into the lowest preparatory class who has not a thorough knowledge of the four properties of numbers, addition, subtraction, multiplication and division. He is also expected to be able to read and spell fairly well, and be ready to begin the study of English grammar.

Reports—Examinations

A record is kept of the daily recitations, and the averages are read at the end of each month in the presence of the Professor of the class and the Prefect of Studies. At the end of each quarter the averages are read publicly in the study hall in the presence of the President and Faculty and the assembled student body.

Parents or guardians are furnished with quarterly reports of the student's standing.

During the scholastic year there are two general examinations. In the month of January there is an oral examination in English, Latin, Greek and Mathematics. In the other branches the examination is written. In June the general examination is written.

On the averages for these examinations, combined with the monthly class averages, depends the promotion of the student. However, if any one fail in an examination in one, or even two branches, and his class standing has been satisfactory in these studies, he will be allowed a certain time to prepare, and then be given a second examination. Passing this satisfactorily, the student will be permitted to advance with his class.

Degrees and Diplomas

The degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred on the satisfactory completion of the Classical course. Graduates who, for two years longer, pursue Scientific or Literary studies, may apply for the degree of Master of Arts.

The degree of Bachelor of Sciences is conferred on the satisfactory completion of the Scientific course. Two years longer spent in scientific study may entitle the graduate from this department to the degree of Master of Sciences.

Diplomas are presented to those students who have completed in an approved manner the studies of the Academic department.

Commercial diplomas are awarded to those who satisfactorily complete the Commercial course.

Prizes

The "Alumni Gold Medal of Excellence" is annually presented to the student of the Classical course who has the highest general average for the year. This medal of excellence is regarded as the most desirable prize in the College. It is the gift of the Society of the Alumni of St. Vincent's.

The "English Essay" Gold Medal is awarded the collegiate student writing the best paper on a given subject in the competition contest for this prize.

The "Father Meyer" Gold Medal is awarded the successful student in the public contest in Elocution, held annually during commencement week.

The "Junior Elocution" Gold Medal is to be annually awarded the successful student in the Junior Elocution contest.

The "Science" Gold Medal is to be annually awarded the student of the Scientific course having the highest general average in his classes.

The "Academic" Gold Medal is presented to the student of the Academic department having the highest general average in his classes at the end of the year.

A Gold Medal is awarded the successful competitor in the annual contest in Christian Doctrine.

During commencement week, premiums are distributed to those students who, having obtained the required average, stand first in their respective classes.

Students reaching an average of 80 per cent in a class receive an honorable mention in the annual catalogue.

Scholarships

Thus far in the history of St. Vincent's College no scholarships have been founded. To those familiar with colleges this fact cannot but appear lamentable; and we hope to be able to announce in our next catalogue that friends of the College and those anxious to confer the lasting benefit of a sound, Catholic education upon poor, but deserving boys and young men, have donated the amount required for the establishment of, at least, several scholarships. To found a scholarship for a day scholar, the sum of one thousand dollars is required. To found a scholarship for a boarder, the sum of five thousand dollars is required. The founder of these scholarships has the right in perpetuity to keep one boy or young man free in the College.

To found a Five-Year Scholarship for a day pupil, two hundred dollars are necessary.

For a Five-Year Boarder's Scholarship, one thousand dollars are necessary.

Discipline

Applicants for admission to the College are required to present testimonials of their good moral character.

St. Vincent's College is a Catholic institution, but students of any denomination are admitted, provided they are willing to attend, with proper respect, the religious exercises prescribed for the students in general.

The faculty, recognizing that there can be no thorough education—education of mind and heart—independent of the benign influence of religion, gives special attention to the teaching of Christian Doctrine, and requires each Catholic student to approach the sacrament of penance once a month and the Holy Communion as often, if permitted by his confessor.

The students are expected to conduct themselves on all occasions with the manliness, the propriety of word and manner, the genuine politeness and courtesy that distinguish the Christian gentleman.

That the students may give due attention to propriety of bearing and to personal neatness, inspection by the President is held twice a week.

Letters to and from the students are subject to the inspection of the President, or of one appointed by him.

Pocket money may be deposited with the Prefect of Discipline. No advance will be made beyond the deposit.

The use of tobacco is prohibited, except to those of the larger boys having the permission of their parents or guardians. This permission may be used only during certain hours and in a specified place. It must be made known in writing to the President.

No student is allowed to leave the College premises without permission. Should anyone but a parent or guardian desire to take a student into the city on a visit, or on business, it shall be permitted only at the written request of parents or guardians.

Permissions of this kind may be refused on account of previous infringement of college discipline.

Profane or improper language, quarreling and such like improprieties are not tolerated.

All damages to College property, even when accidental, must be paid for by the pupil who is responsible for them.

The commission of any of the following faults renders the transgressor liable to expulsion from the College, viz.: Use of profane language, leaving the College grounds after dark, going into the city without permission, conduct tending to bring disgrace upon the College, obstinate refusal to submit to a punishment, open contempt of religion, deliberate injuring of college property.

Special Regulations

The scholastic year consists of two sessions of five months each. The first session opens at the beginning of September, and closes at the end of January; the second begins on the first day of February, and closes in the last week of June.

There are no classes taught on Wednesdays, or on days of religious or national observance. There is a vacation of one week at Chrismas and at Easter.

Day pupils are expected to be in the College at 8:30 o'clock a. m. Recitations begin at 9 a. m. There is a short recess at 10:30 a.m. At noon there is a recess of one hour. Studies and recitations are resumed at 1 o'clock and continue until 3:15 p. m., at which time the day pupils are dismissed.

As the time spent in College is almost entirely occupied in recitation and instruction, day pupils are expected to prepare their lessons at home.

Punctual attendance is strictly enforced. In case of absence or notable tardiness a note from parents or guardians is required, giving a satisfactory reason for such absence or tardiness.
